MEMO FROM John J. MILLER

Allen Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, is willing under the fantastic pressures being placed on the CIA. He's trying to get matters in order so he can resign. He'll be replaced by Louis Nichols, former assistant director of the FBI. . . . A socialite seems to be the only one really crushed by the suicide of Howard Rushmore, the ex-Communist ex-editor of Confidential. Rushmore's wife never knew he and the socialite used to sneak around corners together.
